INQUIRIES FOR EMPLOYMENT REFERENCES (INCLUDING STUDENT EMPLOYEES)

Oregon law provides limited civil immunity from liability for supervisors giving information to prospective employers regarding former employees who comply with the practices set forth in this policy and procedure.¹

Supervisors should always be cautious in making references regarding former and current employees. A written release by the former/current employee is highly recommended.

Former Employee References Information Disclosure:

Chemeketa Community College supervisors are authorized to provide employment references for former employees when contacted by prospective employers, provided the information disclosed is:

1. Requested by the prospective employer, and¹
2. Truthful and provided in good faith, and¹
3. Job related, and
4. Not considered “protected” information.²

Current Employee Reference Information Disclosure:

Oregon law does not provide supervisors the same civil immunity for current employee references as it does for former employee reference. The college does authorize supervisors to disclose information about current employees using the parameters in 1–4 above.
